Indiana was written by French Novelist, George Sand. She was a woman named Amantine Lucile Aurore Dupin and was a contemporary of Victor Hugo and Gustave Flaubert and quite well-known in France during her lifetime. Who knew? It is about a young woman who finds her voice while being married to a much older and violently jealous Monsieur Delmar.

Indiana by George Sand - Goodreads

George Sand's Indiana dramatizes and explores a wide variety of concerns in the nineteenth century with a brilliance one rarely finds in a first novel: Arranged marriages, what it means to be a Creole, colonialism and plantation profiteering, slavery, the beginnings of the deterioration of Old Europe, and the rise of the businessman.

In 1832 she adopted a new pseudonym, George Sand, for Indiana, a novel in which Sandeau had had no part. That novel, which brought her immediate fame, is a passionate protest against the social conventions that bind a wife to her husband against her will and an apologia for a heroine who abandons an unhappy marriage and finds love.
