'Ride The Fire' is the fifth album from Icelandic quintet MAMMÚT. The album is the band's second release in English and was recorded between London and their hometown of Reykjavík. 'Ride The Fire' was produced by fellow Icelander Áрни Hjörvar of The Vaccines - a close friend of the band, and another reinforcement for their close-knit group.

Ride The Fire is the upcoming fifth studio album from Icelandic alternative rock outfit Mammút. Boasting some striking Storm Thorgeron-esque artwork and with Áрни Árnason of The Vaccines behind the production desk, the band lay down more of their trademark dense, atmospheric soundscapes. Vinyl LP £17.49 KKR002 LP on Karkari Records.

The love story between the two builds as each discovers themselves awakening from the terrors that binds. Although enjoyable as a stand alone, "Ride The Fire" is the third installment of Pamela Clare's Kenleigh/Blakewell Family Saga. Each story is it's own individual delight.

About Ride The Fireboat. Originally designed as a City of Chicago Fireboat, the "Fred A. Busse" was built in Bay City, Michigan in 1937 and is similar to two other fire fighting vessels, the Victor Schlaeger and the Joseph Medill, constructed in Sturgeon Bay shortly after World War II. It served the Chicago Fire Department for many years and now houses a small museum dedicated to Chicago's firefighting efforts.

Ride the Fire is the third book in the series and I had read the first two and rated them 5 stars as well. I was really looking forward to this e-book release to complete the story. Nicholas and Bethie and their developing relationship are the core of the story, centered around the French and Indian war.
