A filter bubble is a form of intellectual isolation. It forms when you are exposed only to a small segment of the information—such as news or search results—available on a topic or about the world. The danger can be expressed in an old computing adage: garbage in, garbage out . Filter bubbles are created by two separate mechanisms.

In one episode of Dragon Tales, Ord accidentally gets trapped inside a giant bubble when he and Max are playing around with creating big bubbles from a spring. The bubble mix they used was so strong that trying to pop Ord's bubble with a claw or a barrette doesn't work, and they have to cart his bubble (and him) to a cold region where it freezes over and they then shatter it to finally let him out.

What Causes Trapped Wind in Chest? 1.

Swallowing Air. Swallowing too much air when you eat or drink can cause gas buildup in the chest area. This can be caused by eating or drinking too fast, smoking, gum chewing and nausea. If you do not belch up the excess air it can become trapped. 2. Hernia. A hiatal hernia can cause air to be trapped in the stomach. They happen when part of the esophagus pushes its way through the diaphragm.

Inside the bubble, Trump literally can do no wrong. His often-repeated description of himself as now “immune” from the coronavirus may strike the rest of the country as silly boasting; within the bubble, it’s a powerful metaphor for his status as übermensch. But nothing in life – certainly nothing in politics – comes cost-free.
